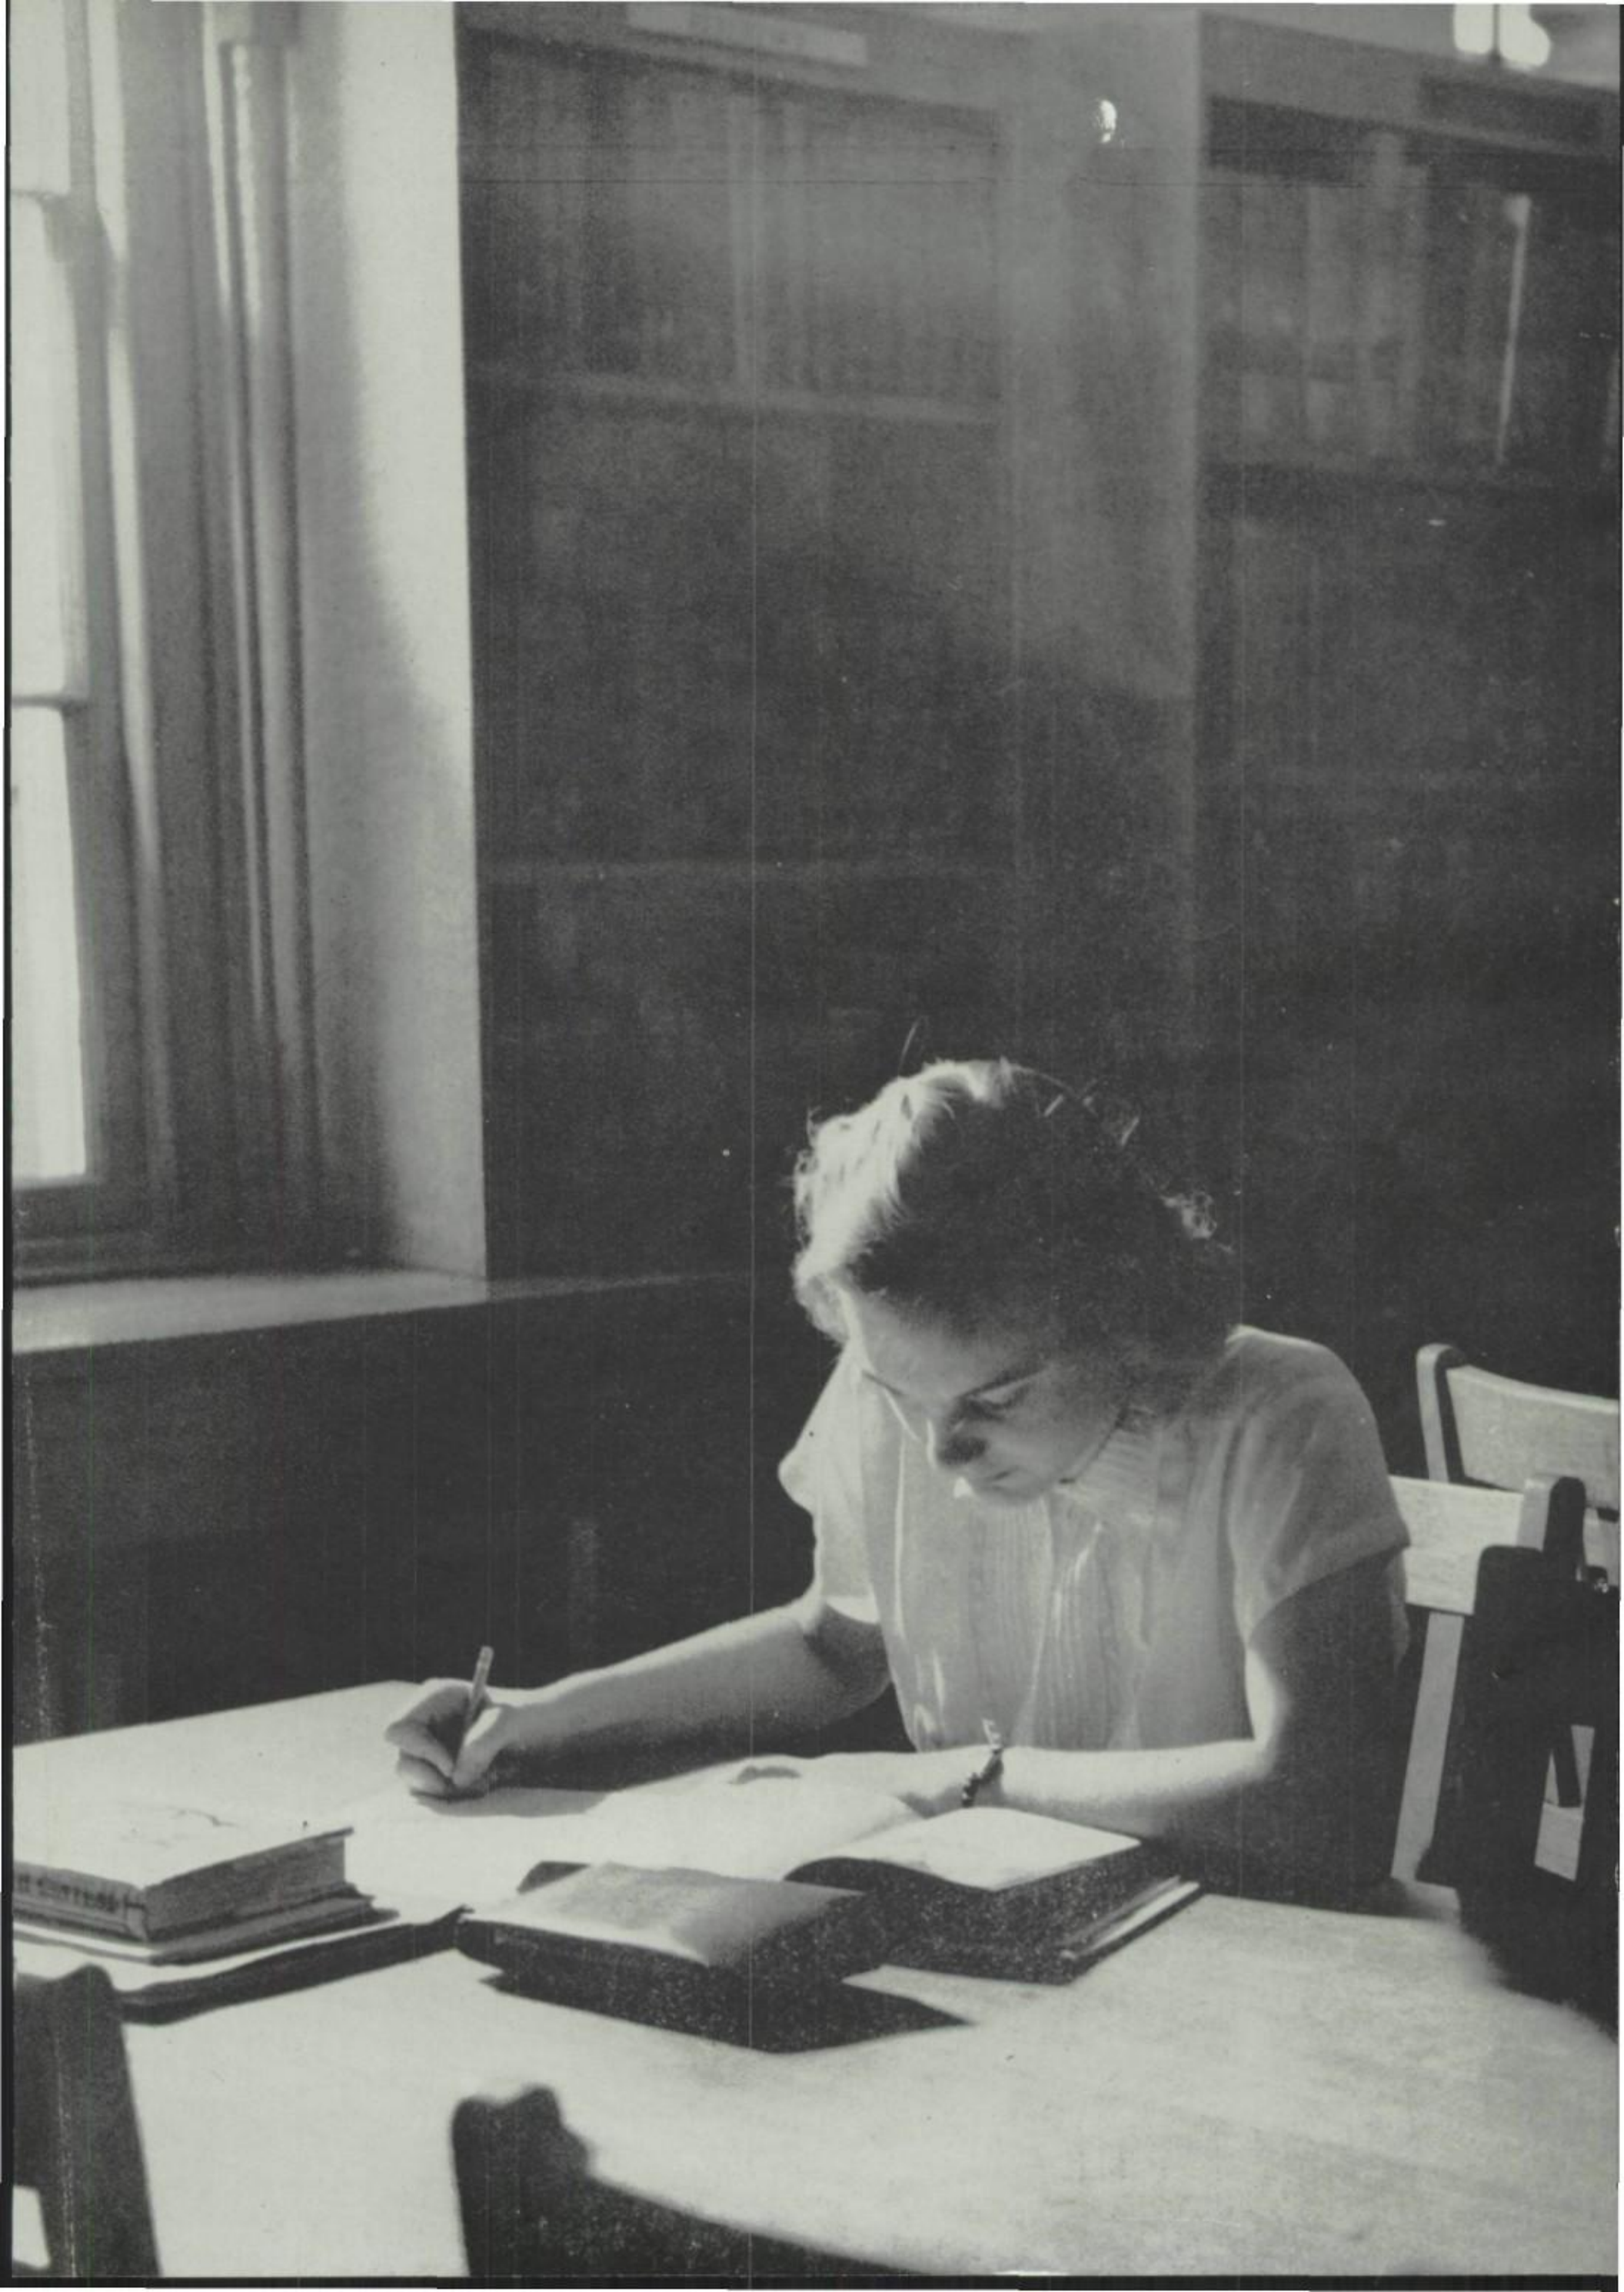
North Central High School

Spokane, Washington



foreword

The council fire of knowledge flickers and casts beckoning shadows among the scattered t e p e e s. Maidens and braves gather around it seeking the light which will save them from the darkness beyond. Sagacious wrinkles line the faces of the elders who have absorbed its rays in bygone years. The mournful howl of the coyote, the call of adventure, breaks the silence, attempting to lure the foolish from this precious circle.

This is North Central, camping ground of the Indians.

"Indians" was adopted as the official name of North Central, Oct. 9, 1923. Many years have passed since then, vanishing as quickly and as surely as the smoke from this great blaze, leaving only charred reminders of their greatness. Following in the footprints of all those great warriors who have passed this way comes a new tribe. Here, they too arm themselves with arrows—perseverance, kindness, patience—ground from the stone of love and tempered sharp with truth and hope. Here they build the canoes from wisdom to help them battle the waves of destiny on the sea of life. They leave behind lingering shadows of past achievements and then, with the speed that only time possesses, they will be gone.

ADMINISTRATION

Members of the Spokane District 81 School Board are: Dr. G. Burwell Mann (vice-president), Clifford Lucas, Mrs. Thomas C. Wurth, Howard C. Frissell, George E. Fallquist (president). James A. Blodgett was appointed to the School Board to replace Clifford Lucas who resigned in February.

JOHN A. SHAW, superintendent of Spokane public schools, and MISS LEILA LAVIN, assistant superintendent.

ALAN TORGERSON, A. S. B. president, confers with JOSEPH M. TEWINKEL, principal, on a student body problem.

To the Graduates of 1952

When Abraham Lincoln's mother whispered a last good-by to her gaunt offspring, she is reported to have said, "Be somebody, Abe."

I imagine that would be the cumulative injunction of the North Central faculty to the graduates of 1952, if final faculty admonitions could be compressed into three words! Deep in the heart of every teacher is the wish that his students may make a good "go" of life, that they may be better people than the instructor himself. When swift-moving years chronicle the success of those who "got their start with me," the teacher feels a glow of pride and participation.

So, what better can we say than to repeat the admonition of a wonderful mother to a wonderful son?

You are now a graduate of a great high school. By the mere fact of graduation you have entered a select circle of the American electorate: the high school graduates. Fewer than one American voter in five is a high school graduate.

America expects more from you than its "average citizens." Don't shoot low. Shoot for the best. Be somebody!

Your friends of North Central will watch your achievements with eager hearts.

Among the hostesses at the Christmas tea, given for the faculty by the foods classes, are Leta Cooper and Arvilla Rockstad. Grouped around the table are Miss Muriel Allison, Miss Mary McKenna, and Miss Wilhelmine Timm, faculty members.

Foods classes offer the girls training in the preparation of good, wholesome food. They are taught methods that will be of use to them in later life, no matter what they do. The basis of family health is the food it eats, and the girl who is wise in the ways of nutrition is well-prepared for family life. The home economics department's foods classes provide training seldom obtained elsewhere.

In Industrial Arts, important in the high school curriculum, the student learns through actually doing. Experiences provide the basis upon which the individual becomes a more intelligent and satisfied consumer, a better producer, and a more useful citizen.

Industrial Arts encourages a respect for the skills and knowledge that are a part of each skilled profession.

Members of the industrial arts production class are shown at work on the easels they are building for city grade schools. Students in this class build equipment for School District 81 rather than for their own use.

Don Jacoy, Bill Crowe, and Jeraldine Creager are shown completing a Shakespearean theater model which they are building in conjunction with English III studies. Projects such as these develop keen interest in the Shakespearean plays.

* * * English is a major part of high school education. Not only is traditional grammar taught, but also improvement in written and oral expression and an interest in good literature are stressed. The English department offers such subjects as dramatics, journalism, debate, and vocabulary, in addition to the regular English classes. Each of these increases the student's knowledge of spoken and written English.

Art courses are offered not only for those students who intend to become professional artists, but also for those who will employ it merely as a relaxing hobby in years to come. The various phases of Art teach the student to express himself and to create beauty with his mind and hands. Instruction in stage design, leather work, commercial art, and jewelry are offered besides the regular subjects.

In addition to regular class projects, the art department designs and paints the sets for North Central stage productions. Here Bernice Gutenberg, Larry Nelson, and Pat Breeden paint paper flowers for the operetta "The Marriage of Nannette."

Operating under the assumption that "one visual demonstration is worth a thousand words," physics classes employ numerous demonstrations and experiments to emphasize lessons. Roger Daisley, Joan Fenton, and Bob Burson are shown studying dynamos by using the oscilloscope.

One year of science above the ninth grade is required for graduation, and the student has a wide variety of courses from which to choose. If he selects biology, he will be rewarded with a rich and lasting knowledge of living things. Photography will reveal the techniques and procedures of picture-taking, developing, and printing. Very important are chemistry and physics, the advanced sciences.

In the clothing classes, girls learn the art of clothes making. From selection of materials to actual sewing of the garment, the girls gather practical knowledge in clothing construction. In years to come, the woman who can make part of her own wardrobe will be money ahead. Many of the girls realize this, and consequently the department's classes are always popular.

Marlene Patjens checks the hem of Pat Rodin's dress. The dress is a product of the home economics department's clothing class. In this class girls learn the tricks of sewing which they may employ to good advantage in later life.

The Associated

Striving to promote student interest in various activities and increase general school welfare are the main objectives of the Associated Student Council.

During the semester, the A. S. C. had charge of the popcorn and peanut stands in the cafeteria. Rally Week, which was a combined Pep Week, Friendly Week, and Color Week, the Sadie Hawkins' dance, the annual spring dress dance, the senior reception, a freshman dancing class, were some of the many activities sponsored by the group.

The A. S. B. is composed of the house and the senate. The house is made up of representatives from each home room. The senate is composed of the five student body officers, two senators from each of the four classes, except the freshman which has one, and representatives of the Girls' League and Boys' Federation.

Working to establish better friendships between North Central and the other city schools, the interschool relations committee, sponsored by the A. S. B., meets with committees from the other schools to work out various problems.

Advisers are Del Jones and Patricia Damon.

Girls'

The Girls' League is a service group striving always to attain those high ideals deemed so essential by its creator, Miss Jessie Gibson, in 1918—ideals symbolized in the League emblem of honor, service and loyalty.

The League began the fall semester in its newly remodeled office finished in a Chinese motif.

Under the adviserships of Miss Patricia Damon, the League this year sponsored the PTA membership drive, Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets for needy families, and the annual Dad-Daughter banquet.

Stella Hamilton, Lorraine Carr, Doris Merrick, Kathy Stephenson, Pauline Fendler.

League

Perennial activities of the League are the awarding of pins to honor-roll girls and appointing "Big Cousins," a counselling service for new girls entering North Central.

To be on the League honor roll, each semester, a girl must have grades of C or better and have earned ten League points. For two semesters of service a bronze pin is awarded, four semesters a silver pin, six semesters a gold pin, eight semesters a ruby set in a gold pin. Those on the honor roll for one, three, five, and seven semesters receive honorable mention.

The Boys'

FALL OFFICERS—Front: Dick McCoy, president; Bob Moylan, clerk. Back: Dick Bostrom, treasurer; Lowell C. Bradford, adviser; David Ensberg, vice-president.

Serving the boys of North Central and the school as a whole is the purpose of the Boys' Federation.

Founded in 1918 by Lowell C. Bradford, still its adviser, the Federation has contributed much towards the development of the school. It has invested over $2,000 in the playfield, purchased the auditorium proscenium curtain, and the nickelodeon in the Totem In.

This year, the Federation held monthly convocations for the boys, bought and distributed newly designed decal stickers, presented the Archie Buckley inspirational award to Rogers Mogill, and sponsored the sports-for-all program.

Federation

Departments of the "Fed" include community service, personal service, school service, and sports-for-all. Twenty-five committees make up these departments.

Work of the group is directed by an executive council, composed of the four elected officers, heads of the four service departments, five class representatives, and representatives from each of the activities in which boys participate.

To train members in civic duties, the Federation conducts its own elections, following as closely as possible city election procedure.

The 1952

"Come on, you Indians"

Because for 29 years, North Central has been the home of the Indians, an Indian theme was chosen by the staff for the 1952 Tamarack.

The theme is carried out by art work on the end sheets, the division pages, and the cover. Mabelle Mead, art editor, was assisted by Bob Moylan.

After the theme was selected, the next important job was planning the make-up of the book, collecting and assembling senior pictures and activities, and photographing all school groups and activities.

The writing of copy, checking proofs, and getting pictures of spring sports, Doll Shop, plays, and other activities were the first tasks of the spring staff. They also assembled the sections and planned the distribution of the book.

Joanne Cogley has been editor-in-chief of the 1952 Tamarack. The staff is divided into four groups—publications, photography, art, and printing. Miss Mary McKenna, publications adviser and general adviser of the Tamarack, co-ordinates the work among the editorial department, photographers, engravers, and print shop. It is the job of George Smith, photography adviser to see that all scheduled pictures are taken, developed, and printed. All art work is done under the direction of Kenneth Mhyre. Don Townsend supervises the printing of the book at the Trade school.

Honors Board

"Oh, boy, look at the big letter that boy is wearing." It is the honors board appointed each semester by the A. S. C. who decides who is to wear these letters and who are to receive the various athletic awards.

Student Court

Any unfortunate student who has received a conduct slip during the previous week is brought before the student court on Wednesday. Patterned after the real thing, this court often requires that offenders make up nights after school.

Con Deputies

Adding to the effectiveness of any convocation is the silence maintained by the con deputies. They are stationed in all parts of the auditorium and may give conduct slips to all who cause disturbance or save seats.

Hall Guards

"Hey, do you have a pass?" Every student has been asked this question at sometime by an alert hall guard. These guards are stationed at strategic spots in the building between classes to see that every student in the halls has a pass.

HALL GUARDS—Front row: Bill Blackwood, Eileen Johnson, Joyce Stempel, Dawn Robertson, Betty Jean Rohrer, Joan Crandell, Barbara Sperling, Betty Buckley, Don Butte. Grounds Squad

"Dick Tracy" has nothing on the grounds squad officers as they fearlessly patrol the building, always watching for an unsuspecting "criminal." For any serious offense, these officers may send a student to court by giving him a conduct slip.

Traffic Squad

"I'm sorry, you'll have to use the other stairs." This is the pet saying that the members of the traffic squad use as they direct students through the halls between classes. In a friendly but firm way, they help preserve law and order.

Library Workers

"Will I be able to find any book in the library easily?" You bet you will! The library workers keep every book in its correct place and give invaluable help to the librarians. They contribute greatly to the efficiency of the library by working in the fiction section, serving as monitors, and clerical workers, and helping at the charging desk. These workers also do a great service to their fellow students and save them money by warning them when they have overdue books.

Gym Office Workers

"The helping hand" in the girls' gym department, gym office workers assist in co-ordinating duties within the department. They not only check the attendance daily, but also keep individual records on every girl taking gym.

Roll Checkers

It is the duty of the roll checkers to survey the study halls each period and mark attendance. They also check the study hall slips sent in from the library. In performing their tasks, the roll checkers learn to keep neat, efficient records.

Locker Monitors

Locker monitors are on duty six periods a day in the girls' locker room. They are the guardians and protectors of property. It is the job of the locker monitors to make certain of the safety of articles in the locker room.

Nurse's Workers

Since the nurse is at North Central only part of the week, it is necessary to have someone else operate her office in her absence. This newly organized group provides an opportunity for girls to develop responsibility and efficiency.

Cafeteria Staff

The way to a student's heart is through his stomach. This fact makes the cafeteria staff perhaps the most popular of all. They serve healthy, well-balanced meals at a low cost, as well as ice cream and other extras.

Custodians

Some people have to do the dirty work and at North Central it is the custodians. Besides their daily chore of sweeping floors, they clean woodwork, care for the lawn, and do everything to make the school look spick-and-span.

CUSTODIANS—Lucia Pontieri, Wesley Harvey, Fred Ullrich, Ed Trapp, R. E. Gooler, Arthur Baker, William Rummer, George Treudson.

Spanish Club

To join Spanish Club a student must be enrolled in Spanish and must have a C average. For social gatherings, members prepare the exotic foods of Mexico and Spain for refreshments. Two business meetings and one social are on the agenda each month.

Quill and Scroll

This chapter, named for Edward R. Murrow, a graduate of Washington State college, who is now one of the vice-presidents of C. B. S., is one of thirty-five hundred chapters in several countries. Miss McKenna, adviser, was international president of Quill and Scroll in 1945-1946.

3 C's

Cleaner speech, cleaner character, and cleaner conduct is the motto of the 3C's Club which was organized in the spring of 1950. Meetings are held each Friday morning. The group combines with similar clubs from the other city high schools for fellowship.

Radio Club

Radio Club was founded in 1918 by "Radio" Smith, a science teacher at North Central, who also founded the radio station now known as KSPO. The purpose of Radio Club is to further interest in amateur radio and to promote efficiency among its members.

Latin Club

When the club meets, the members are those who have an interest in Latin and ancient lore of Rome. Initiation finds each prospective member, a Latin student, interpreting a famous Roman character.

Rifle Club

The activities of Rifle Club are directed toward developing safe, skilled marksmen. The group competes in regional matches and receives training and practice in the use of rifles. Each member owns his own gun and must pass a training course.

Art Club

Art club affords an opportunity for those interested in art to meet other people with the same interests. This year the club sponsored the "Eye Opener Dance" to provide funds for the annual "Painting of the Year" contest.

Thespians

"Act well your part, for there all honor lies" is the motto of North Central's chapter of the National Thespian society. The club's purpose is to create active and intelligent interest in dramatic arts among boys and girls in high school.

Vox Puellarum

Vox Puellarum, "Voice of the Girls," is a social and philanthropic organization. Each year Vox awards the graduating girl who has accomplished the most in high school under the greatest handicap. Vox sponsors the convocation introducing spring sports princess candidates.

Warriors

To encourage attendance of games is one of the many activities of North Central's lettermen. The Warriors sponsor and put on an annual pay convocation to raise funds for their football banquet and provide for captain trophies for each major sport.

WARRIORS—Front row: Jerry Mason, Phil Lefler, Eldon Mills, Bill Kiper, Larry Widmer, Roy Hardin, Skip Pixley, Bill Hoagland, Neil McKeever, George Hieber, Jim Webbert, Maurice Miles, Mr. Diedrick. Girls' Glee Club, Choir Orchestra

Music is a voice,
A low voice calling as a friend,
She fills all ways with dancing shapes . . .
—Browning

The music groups—the Choir, the Orchestra, and the Girls' Glee Club—have provided another year of fine music, under the direction of W. Stanley Taft, and student directors Bob Steffer, George Hieber, and Pat Hansen.

The 64 members of the choir completed a crowded fall schedule, appearing at Baccalaureate, the operetta, and the student and PTA Christmas programs in which they wore the new robes for the first time.

This spring, the choir has presented programs for the Federation of Women's Clubs and the Greater Spokane Music Festival. In the spring concert, they sang Faure's "Requiem," a memorial service honoring alumni who died in the service of their country.

The 35-member orchestra has provided music for operetta, Baccalaureate, Commencement, and the Spring Concert.

Girls' Glee Club appeared in the Christmas program and the Spring Concert.

The North Central Band

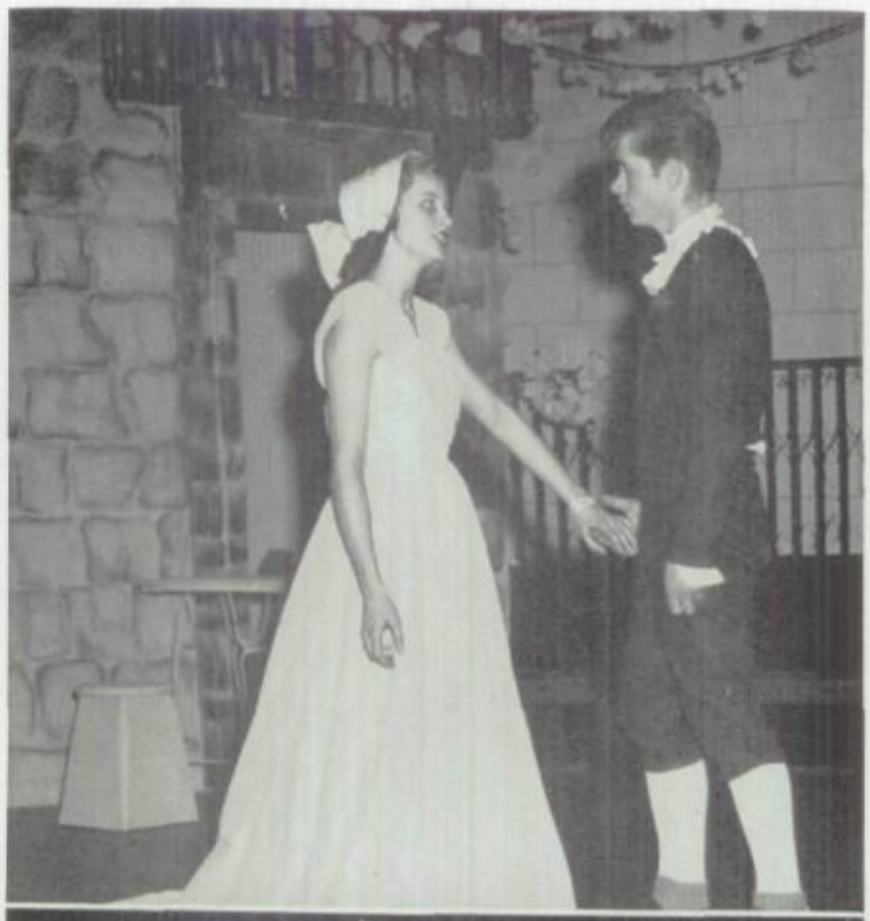
For 29 years, the band and their director, Lowell C. Bradford, have continued to build a school tradition. One of the largest bands of the Northwest, the fall enrollment reached 150, and the spring, 140.

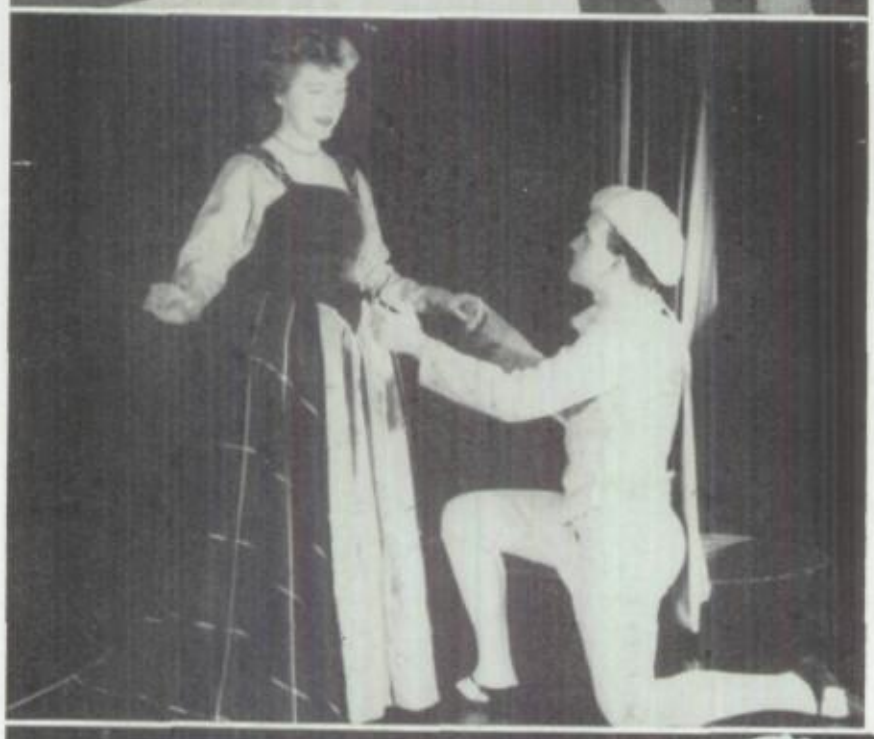
The marching season began with the Merry-Go-Round game, with the band and Red Feathers presenting, "A Bit of Old Hawaii," at half time. Other football game pageants were the crowning of the football princess, "At the End of the Day," and " A Salute to the U. N."

A first-semester program was presented at a convocation early in January and the fifty-second formal concert was in March.

Other spring appearances included the Wenatchee Apple Blossom Festival, the Lilac Festival, the Memorial Day parade, and a concert at Havermale.

The pep band swung its way through another busy season playing for numerous dances before school, under the student direction of Alan Torgerson and Pat Sullivan. The special band, composed of the pep band with specialty instrumentalists played for the sports convocations, the concert at Havermale, and accompanied the soloists at the concert.





"The Marriage

"The Marriage of Nannette," a three-act operetta written by Peterson-Curtis, was presented by the choir, orchestra, and 150 dancers, on Dec. 13 and 14, under the direction of W. Stanley Taft, music department head, Miss Elsa Pinkham, choruses and dancers, and Miss Barbara Brown. Student director was Bob Steffer. It was North Central's fortieth operetta.

The story centers around the village of Champs des Fleurs, in northern France. Nannette (Marian Hetherton), a village maid, is in love with Rene (David Eliason), a village youth. As the plot thickens the Duc d'Antin (Ray Garcea), who lives near the city, finds his bride kidnaped. This clears the way for Nannette to marry him. Nannette has no such desire, but is pushed by her over-domineering mother, Madame Zenobie (Darlene Sheehan), keeper of the village tavern. The bride returns and the Duc marries her instead.

TOP—"Oh, Rene, I love thee only, but my mother declares I must wed the duke!" explains Nannette.

Other leads were Yvonne Blackstone as Gitana and Don Circle as Pierre. Taking other speaking parts were: Mary Ellen De-Groat, Tom Ledbetter, Bill Langdon, Dixie Lee Miles, Charles Henthorn, Carolyn Young, George Hagen, George Hieber, Margie Werhan, George Casselman, Jerry Turcott, Al Jones, Rex Hoseley, Nancy Springer, and Donna Reed.

"Our Miss Brooks"

Depicting the trials and tribulations of an English teacher, the all-school play "Our Miss Brooks" was the first production directed by Miss Myrtle Chitty, North Central's new dramatics coach.

While attempting to supervise a student play, Miss Brooks encounters such obstacles as broken love affairs (mostly her own), irate school board members, spoiled children, and broken vases. Before the final curtain she manages to successfully present the play and also snag her man.

Students showed special interest in this three-act comedy since the story is such a familiar one.

Top—Miss Brooks (Joann Stickel) watches eagerly as the coach (Bob Moylan) explains all about his hobby, sailing.

Center—Jane (Natalie Johnson) looks on in envy as Rhonda (Vanna Flynn) applies the "clinging vine" technique to Ted (Bill Guske).

Nine girls—Joyce Stempel, Carolyn Lamb, Jo Ann Caputo, Lynne Hugo, Aleta Melf, Carole Vohs, Vanna Flynn, Joyce Pencosky, Dolores Hughes—try out for "Nine Girls."

Grease paint plays a major part in all plays. Bernice Gutenburg seems to enjoy being made-up by Joann Stickel.

"Nine Girls"

"Nine Girls," a Broadway stage hit, was the 1952 Senior Class Play, presented May 22 in a student convocation, and May 23 in an evening performance. Directing this year's play was Miss Myrtle Chitty, assisted by Patty Schrader.

An unusual play which lets the audience know right from the start who the guilty party is, "Nine Girls" is somewhat different from the regular productions presented at North Central. The plot centers around nine girls in a mountain club house. One by one strange things happen to them until, in the suspense-filled finale, one girl meets the killer with bravery and cunning —which leads to the killer's downfall.

Doll

With all the polish of a top Broadway hit, the eleventh biennial Doll Shop, sponsored by the girls' physical education department, thrilled capacity audiences at three evening performances and one student convocation, March 18, 19, 20, and 21.

General director was Miss Elsa

Ron and Judy Scalera's original skit, Popo the Puppet, was one of the highlights of the "Shop." Myrtle, Goldie Long, and Marvin, Bill Guske, fraternal twins, worked the strings.

Camera catches Miss Pinkham in one of the rare moments when she took time out from her myriad of responsibilities to put the final touches on some costumes.

Old King Cole—Larry Otto, Don Dolan, Claudia Bratton, Roger Daisley, David Henry, Gary Hanneman.

Shop

Pinkham, the lady with the magic touch. With the assistance of L. C. Bradford and his special Doll Shop orchestra, and the costume class under the direction of Miss Helen Beaver, Miss Pinkham assembled the best production yet.

Mixing humor, romance, and excitement, the "Shop" moved along at a very lively pace with its traditional jack-in-the-box, its penguins, hop toads, Raggedy Ann and Andy, the three little kittens, and diversified songs and dances from the cast of 300.

Bowery—Kay Andre, Bud Watson, Barbara Countryman.

"A Dream Is a Wish Your Heart Makes"

Domino "An Evening in Paris" almost stopped the show with its professional presentation.

Stage Crew

"Move that spot a little to the right!" Building sets, managing the lighting, opening and closing the curtains, and performing every backstage task necessary to the success of the show, the stage crew has been a vital part of the year's productions.

Under the direction of Vern R. Broadwell, of the industrial arts department, members of the stage crew, besides handling the backstage arrangements for the plays, the operetta, the Doll Shop, and music festival, also operate the lighting and loud-speaker systems for convocations and special programs in the auditorium.

Up goes the curtain! Al Showalter, Jim Meyers, and Paul Morigeau do a little behind-the-scenes work.

"The King is back! Long live the King!" King football returned to North Central high school this year after an absence of twelve long and lean seasons.

Sparked by eleven returning lettermen, the Indians, coached by Jerry Stannard, captured a first-place tie with Gonzaga high in the Spokane City league. Playing in the newly formed Columbia Basin conference also, the Tribe turned in a 3-2 record good enough for third place. This new league includes the four Spokane high schools and Walla Walla and Yakima. The strong Blue Devils from Walla Walla became the first champion of the conference.

Preseason favorites for the first time in many years, the Warriors started out like a house-a-fire. Gonzaga was handed its worst defeat of the season, 32-7. In their next outing, North Central met the eventual league champions, Walla Walla, and lost a close one, 6-18, to the Blue Devils on their home field.

The Braves got back on the winning trail with a close but convincing 19-13 win over the John Rogers Pirates. Archrival Lewis and Clark was next to fall before the Tribe's onslaught, 14-0. A red-hot bunch of Gonzaga Bullpups, plus a heavy fog in the last half of the game, helped to upset the league-leading Indians, 13-26 in Spokane Memorial stadium.

North Central went touchdown crazy in the next game swamping hapless Yakima 58-6 to set a new scoring record for the past

All-City Guard Skip Pixley was voted the J. O. Ecker Memorial award. Guard Rogers Mogill received the Archie Buckley Inspirational award. Bill Hoagland and Roy Hardin were voted co-captains for 1951. End Dick Bostrom received the blocking award, and Guard Larry Widmer, tackling. Bill Kiper, guard, was honored as "lineman of the year." Coached by Bill Whitaker, the B squad had a successful season, coming in a close second to the Lewis and Clark eleven.

A tie with Gonzaga, 0-0, giving NC one loss and one tie, kept North Central from tying with the future Tigers for first. Lewis and Clark had but one loss.

A winning streak, started by last year's undefeated squad, was lengthened to 13 this year, but was ended by a loss to LC, 26-7.

Standouts on the squad this year were ends, Norm Veach and Bob Lobdell; backs, Ray Ericksen, Bob Wilkes, Mike Reopelle, and Burrell Nutt; and Bob Waite on the line.

Roy Carriker, manager

Headed by such players as Roger Babb, Dick Lightfoot, Tom McLaughlin, and Bob Nance in the backfield and Bill Nance and LeRoy Sutherlin in the line, the 1951 frosh squad finished second in the city league—tied with Rogers and Gonzaga.

Lewis and Clark came through undefeated, but West Valley dropped all four of their city league contests . . . to North Central, 32-0.

Coach Don Bonamy mentioned that besides the gaining of experience, members of the little Indian squad learned other lessons that will prove precious to them in later years: Development of good sportsmanship, experiencing the desire to win and to keep going when the going gets rough.

Varsity Basketball

Losing four of the starting line-up from the 1951 city league basketball champions, Coach Jerry Stannard had his work cut out for him in continuing the seventeen-game city league winning streak compiled by Indian teams for the past three years.

Victors in six of ten preseason games, the Tribe extended their city league win streak to eighteen games by edging John Rogers Pirates in the league opener, 25-23, on Dick Bostrom's last-second field goal. The eventual city champion, West Valley Eagles, caught the Indians without their shooting eyes, and the Tribe bowed 33-50.

Warriors defeated the Gonzaga Bullpups 47-26. Meeting cross-town rival Lewis and Clark Tigers, North Central fell before Squinty Hunter's crew by a 35-43 count in a very hard-fought game.

Starting the second half of city play, the Tribe found John Rogers much tougher the second time out and lost a 27-53 game to the Hillyard crew. Still in a shooting slump, they couldn't buy a basket from the West Valley quintet and lost 37-50.

Stepping outside the loop, the Indians traveled to Pullman to play the Washington State college freshmen. For three quarters the Tribe kept pace with the fast-moving frosh, only to fall behind in the fourth and come out on the short end of a 50-62 score.

Jerry Mason, senior guard, was selected by his teammates as honorary captain for the season. Senior center Gary Hetherington was the winner of the free-throw award. B Basketball

From B squads, mighty varsities grow!

Such is the hope of North Central since the B squad came through with six wins and two losses to share top-spot honors with West Valley in the city league this year.

Tied with Lewis and Clark, 37-37, going into an overtime, Coach "Nip" Hagen's boys came out of the contest leading 41-37, ending their season with a hard-fought, hard-won game.

Bob Reichert, who merits watching in the future, led all scoring by accounting for an average of 19 points a game for the season. Other high scorers were Bob Donaldson and Ray Ericksen.

"They were great competitors."

With these words, Coach Bob Hoesly described this year's hard-dying frosh basketball squad, which tied with Libby for sixth position in the city tussle.

Although the record of five wins and nine losses may not look too impressive, the fact that five of the games were lost by only one or two points should be considered before judging too harshly the team's efforts.

Top scorer of the season was LeRoy Sutherlin. Other standouts were Lee Walker, Phil Walker, Wayne Evenoff, Bob Vogel, Dick Lightfoot, and Larry Reed.

One thing these boys have surely learned is the necessity of "fighting until the final bell."

MANAGERS—Jim Mead (head), Harry Quinn.

For the first time in a decade, the baseball outlook for North Central is very bright, as the Tamarack goes to press. Bolstered by five experienced lettermen and numerous talent from last year's championship B squad, Coach Al Manfred's horse-hiders are favored by the "experts" to bring home the league bunting for the first time in sixteen years.

Strengthened by the fact that all but three of the team played American Legion summer baseball, under Manfred, and won that crown from teams representing five other Inland Empire high schools, the Tribe stands an excellent chance of lifting the crown from Art Walther's perennially strong Lewis and Clark Tigers.

Showing preseason power, the Warriors defeated the West Valley Eagles twice, and the Central Valley Bears once. Traveling down to Lewiston, Idaho, during spring vacation, they split with the strong banana-belt Bengals. The Tribe won the first tilt, 5-4, but dropped the second, 2-9.

Veteran catcher Bill Hoagland, a starter last year, provides much-needed power at the plate, plus being the probable number one backstop in the city. Sophomore Larry Fisher, up from the frosh, is a capable replacement for Bill.

The pitching staff lines up as the league's tops. Heading the list of moundsmen is Dale "Lefty" Kreager and Jerry Christeson. Rounding out the staff are newcomer Earl Stoner, from Texas, and Dewayne Howell.

At the initial sack, junior Gordy Brunette, up from the B squad, gives the Tribe more power at the plate, plus good fielding.

Basketballer Dick Fosness, also a junior is the starting second baseman. Dick's speed and agility make him very valuable for his fielding ability.

Two seniors, Jack Webb and Bob Pahkama, are fighting it out for the starting call at shortstop. Jack, a returning letterman and a good hitter, had the edge at press time, over the small but scrappy Pahkama.

Five outfield candidates give the Tribe speed plus valuable hitting power. Senior Jim Webbert is one of the best hitters on the club. Johnny Cozzetto, a converted infielder, patrols right field, making good use of his short, fast legs. Big Lew Turner, transfer from Rockford, Washington, is a potential home-run hitter every time he steps to the plate. Don Faraca and Harry Perry back up the outfield regulars. Bill Powell, a letter winner, is also an outfielder who may pitch occasionally.

North Central plays a nine-game city-league schedule with six games at home and three away.

Varsity Track

A completely revamped track team, coached by Al Danielson, continued the Indians' four-year victory skein by tying a highly favored Gonzaga Bullpup cinder squad by a score of 52-52 in the opening dual meet of the 1952 track season.

The tie was the first ever recorded in city competition. By breaking even with Gonzaga, the Tribe, destined by the "experts" to wind up in the cellar, established themselves as a possible threat for second place behind the powerful Rogers Pirates.

Sophomores Mike Reopelle and Ben Milne are the top sprinters. Ray Ericksen and Ken Blackman are North Central's top hurdlers.

In the 440-yard dash, letterman Rex Hoseley is the top man. Sophomores Dan McKinnon and K. Norman and Bert Byrne, a converted sprinter, add depth for the Tribe. In the half mile, junior Floyd Perkins, and versatile Dick Bostrom give the Indians two capable middle distance runners. Don Dolan, who was second in the preseason meet at Pullman, Larry Haunschild, Ron Sanders, and Bob Lockhert are North Central's top milers.

In the field events, "Spike" Fitch, Coewell Gaines, and sophomore Bud Watson are the pole vaulters. "Spike" also broad jumps along with Rex Hoseley. In the high jump, basketballer Bob Pelleberg, Claude Merrill, and Don Materne represent North Central. Bostrom, Ericksen, and Willie Benson throw the shot-put for the Tribe.

North Central's schedule called for the Pullman preseason meet, Mead, and Central Valley, and one meet with each of the city high schools. Then, the all-city meet followed by the tri-district meet and the state meet at Pullman.

Cross-Country

"We want that trophy back," is the principal thought in the minds of all cross-country runners in '52. For the first time in four years, the team failed to win the all-city meet and the trophy given annually to the school winning this meet by the Spokane Chronicle. Lewis and Clark's harriers won it last season.

North Central runners, coached by Al Danielson, met Rogers and Lewis and Clark each once in dual meets and together in the all-city event. Gonzaga was not represented in the city competition because too few turned out for the sport.

Rogers defeated the Tribe by a score of 26-30 (low score wins), but the Red and Black B squad beat their Bees, 23-36.

Then the squad met Lewis and Clark! This proved a sad experience for the Indians as they were beaten 15-43 by Tiger George Couchman and comrades.

But a week later, on a cold, windy, drizzly day, the Tribe won over Rogers, in the all-city meet. In this meet, it was Lewis and Clark in the lead, with North Central and Rogers fighting hard for second. The score was LC 15, NC 57, Rogers 63.

George Couchman ran the 1.9 mile race in 9:14 to finish the season without seeing a competitor's back. He'll be on their squad again in the fall.

North Central had no returning lettermen in the starting line in the LC and all-city meets because of sickness, injury, and various reasons.

Runners who earned their varsity letters and will not return this year are Ron Sanders, Coewell Gaines, and Don Dolan. Other varsity letter winners were Neil McKeever, Claude Merrill, and Bob Lockhart.

B squad letter recipients were K. Norman, Dick Stark, Don Newland, Jerry Connelly, Gary Hanneman, Alan Robinson, Dick Mathews, Dick Scott, and Gary Slanger.

"This was rebuilding year!" explained Coach Danielson, "but with plenty of hard work, we expect to have a more successful season in '52."

More freshmen, sophomores, and juniors turning out for this character-building sport would do away with many of these rebuilding years.

Although Lewis and Clark is losing half its squad by graduation, it will still have a strong team and will be the one to beat next season. Rogers will be without their top lettermen in the fall.

Sports-

Two big events highlighted the winter sports-for-all program this year. The first was an exhibition of tumbling and wrestling given at a Boys' Federation convocation, Jan. 25. Performing the tumbling feats were Dick Nyberg and "Spike" Fitch, two experienced tumblers.

Another well-received act on this program was a "tag" wrestling match pitting the strength and know-how of Bill Langdon and Roy Hardin against that of Willie Benson and Bob Waite. It was a draw.

The second standout feature of the season came in the form of a swimming demonstration, presented for the Parent-Teachers' association, Jan. 28. This demonstration included a relay and some water polo, in which all got into the act. But the main feature was a diving show, with John Denbeigh, John Thamm, and John Tuft performing difficult maneuvers from the springboard.

The boys were coached by George Smith of the faculty with the "much-appreciated assistance of John Tuft." More than 60 boys developed the arts of diving and swimming in this phase of the proceedings.

Sponsored by the Federation, with Dick Nyberg as head, this year's program included wrestling, tumbling, swimming, ping-pong, and que-croquet.

Wrestling, coached by Robert Bland, and "ably assisted" by student chairmen Bill Langdon and Willie Benson, was much for-All enjoyed by many boys, as the importance of clean and hard fighting was stressed. Although many boys reported occasionally, only four were consistent in attendance. They were Lee Moran, Willie Benson, "Spike" Fitch, and Bob Waite.

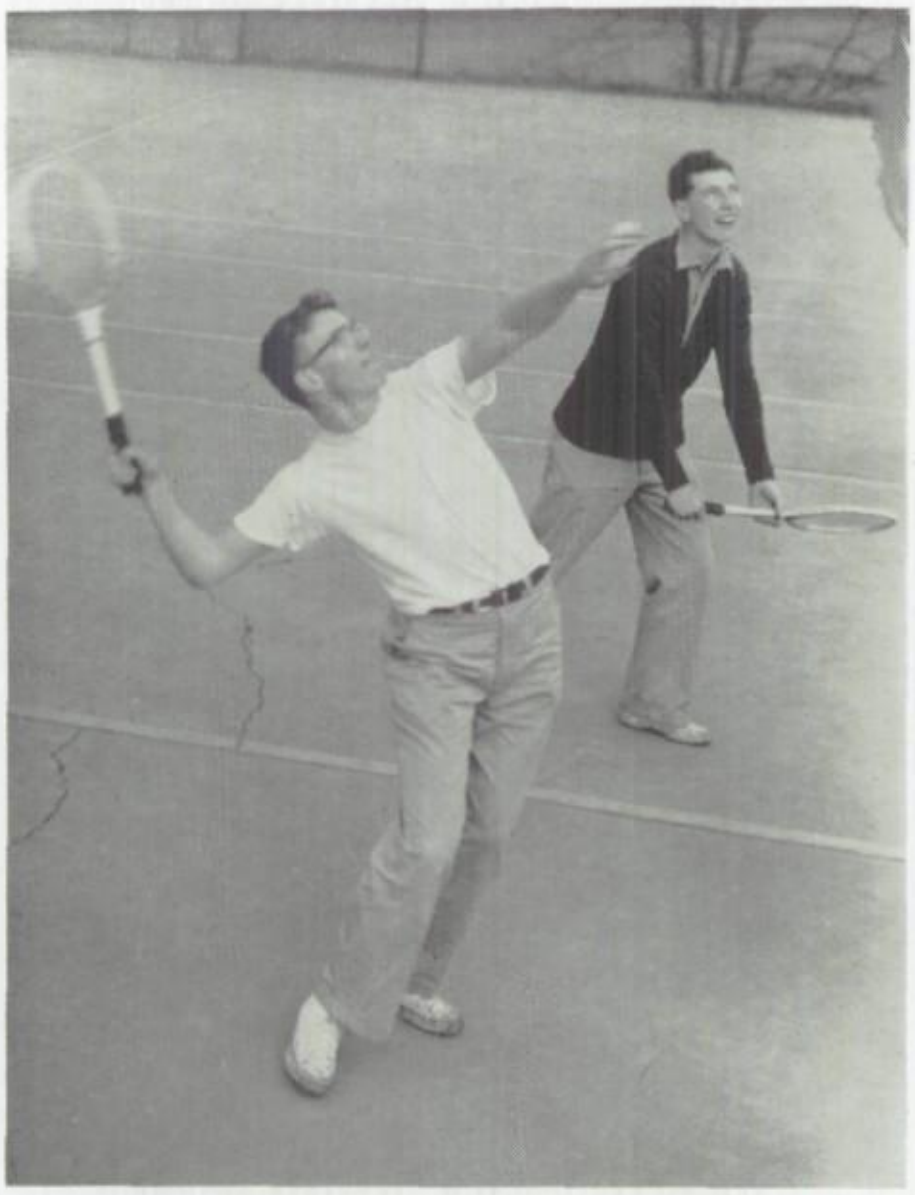
With Howard McNew as coach, tumblers learned many coordination feats. A definite developer of self-confidence was the front flip, no-hands style. Those who attended 80 per cent of the turnouts and received 10 points towards a sports-for-all emblem were Terry Middaugh, "Spike" Fitch, Duane Traaen, Dick Nyberg, Tom Moore, and Bud Watson. "Spike" and Coe-well Gaines were student chairmen.

Under the tutelage of Coach Burrill Exley, ping-pong and que-croquet provided many thrilling hours for numerous boys.

After a hard-fought tournament, Don Circle proved the superior of the paddle-wielding boys by defeating last year's champion, George Hieber, and in the play-offs, by taking the first two games from Don Noren, thus becoming "Champ of '52."

An elimination tournament was also held in the que-croquet phase of the activities, with Bud Watson beating out Larry Sleizer for top honors.

An advantage in sports-for-all program is that a boy doesn't have to possess any outstanding athletic ability to participate in the fun and thrills—just the will to learn.



Warming up before a match are the only returning lettermen on this year's squad, George Hieber and Bob LaLonde.

Boys' Tennis

With only two returning lettermen, George Hieber and Bob LaLonde, the Indians will do well to finish second, as the tough defending champions, Rogers, has fielded a strong team and are expected to retain their top-spot honors again this season.

Coach Ernest Hix has two good prospects for victories for the Red and Black in Mickey McCuddin and Bob Taigen.

The probability of consistent experienced tennis teams from North Central was strengthened this season by a larger turnout of freshmen and sophomores than usual.

Girls' Tennis

Smashing, lobbing, and driving their way to a perfect four win and no loss record, the girls' tennis team wound up the season holding the city championship for the fourth straight year.

The Papooses, coached by Miss Elsa Pinkham, head of the girls' physical education department, defeated Rogers, Lewis and Clark, West Valley, and Central Valley in the league play.

Boys' Golf

"Oh, no! Not the sand trap again!"

At Downriver and Indian Canyon golf courses this season, Coach Don Bonamy's "fresh" team competed twice against Gonzaga and Lewis and Clark in city-league competition.

The boys gained much experience while competing against teams from Oregon, Idaho, Montana, and Washington.

Captain this year was Wayne Livengood. Medalist in the first contest was Lewis Hutchins with a score of 78.

Girls' Golf

The girls' golf team, coached by Miss Wilhelmine Timm, emerged victorious over Lewis and Clark and Rogers in the Medal tournament last fall, which took the place of the regular competition. The girls practiced at Downriver golf course every Tuesday and Thursday.

Team captain for the fall semester was Pat McVay and the manager was Lora Lee McDougall. Darlene Leahy and Mary Moe were chosen captain and manager for the spring team.

Color

The name Color Girls accurately describes this peppy cheering unit of over 80 freshman and sophomore girls. Not only do they add color to the school, but they also cheer, sing, and add pep and zest to all North Central's sports affairs.

Promoting sports ticket sales, marching in parades, and sometimes appearing in football half-time stunts, the Color Girls, directed by Rose Marie Craft, assistant director of the girls' P. E. department, are a vital organization in the student body.

The officers, elected from the sophomore B class, and Miss Craft, compose the group of judges who select new Color Girls at tryouts held each semester. Freshman and sophomore B girls with grade averages of C or better are eligible to try out. Applications must be turned in by girls interested in girls' sports activities.

During Color Week, sponsored annually by the ASB, these girls add color to the various functions held that week by wearing their uniforms each day.

Swimming

SWIMMING CHAIRMAN—Phyllis Glen.

After-school swimming was open not only to advanced swimmers but also to beginners this semester. The 57 girls who turned out for the after-school swim class, which was held each Monday, worked on perfecting the numerous swim strokes and on Red Cross tests.

Assisted by Phyllis Glen, chairman, the class met under the supervision of Miss Craft. Gym make-ups and all-activity points were given for participation.

SOFTBALL MANAGERS—Peggy Kooken, Edna Worthington

Softball

One! Two! Three strikes! You're out!

These words could be heard echoing round the playfield every Tuesday and Thursday morning before school as the girls' softball teams battled it out.

Organizing during the first week after spring vacation, the teams were managed by Peg Kooken and Edna Worthington and directed by Miss Craft.

On May 26 the annual girls' track meet was held. The girls practiced for the meet in their gym classes.

Skating

SKATING CHAIRMEN—Janet Halin, Elise Scott.

"Come skate with me . . ."

And for our skating girls this meant every Wednesday at the Ice Arena. The class began as soon as the arena opened in the fall and terminated with the closing of the arena in March.

School figures, dance steps, and free skating were practiced under the direction of Miss Timm, Miss Pinkham, and Miss Allison.

Elise Scott was chairman of the fall group and Janet Halin of the spring.
